

PROPOSALS/IDEAS TO ENSURE 15% QUORUM

- Long-term project/duty of existing governing body and principal to facilitate loyalty and parent involvement, e.g. school traditions. Parents must feel as if it's their school.
- 2. Events at school (finish just before election meeting)
- 3. Competition between grades/prizes (ice cream, free periods)
- 4. Motivation of parents through other organisations, such as church
- 5. Co-opt experts now who will be willing to stand for election
- Chair/principal identifies individuals in the community and motivates them to market themselves as governing body members
- 7. School with hostel(s) could have election on the first/last day of school, or on the Friday of a home weekend when parents fetch their children
- 8. Arrange the election alongside another event such as a sports day
- Remind parents timeously/well in advance/often and in writing (tear-off slips)
 (importance of parent participation)
- Class teachers could phone parents a week prior to the election, and SMS them on voting day
- 11. Children whose parents have finished voting may accompany their parents home earlier (get off time from school) this works particularly well on a Friday
- Concise, easy-to-read and interesting document/brochure to parents on role, functions and importance of governing body
- 13. Indicate election date very prominently on the school's year calendar
- 14. Send regular governing body news to parents (plans, successes, activities)
- 15. Ideal: Properly market full-day election
- 16. Primary schools: Host short programme by junior primary learners prior to the time (choir, speech choir, etc.). For senior primary learners, combine election with parent evening where subject teachers may be visited.
